

HALLOWEEN SAFETY TIPS

Trick-or-treating is a great adventure for children. Parents, keep it fun by preparing yourself and your children for a safe night out, beginning with these safety tips.

You or a responsible adult should always accompany children 12 and under when trick-or-treating.

Children over the age of 12 who are responsible enough to go without you, should stay in groups, follow an agreed upon route, and watch for cars.

WATCH the ROAD. Kids are more likely to be hit and killed by a car on Halloween than on any other day of the year.

Walk, don't run from house to house.

Have your trick-or-treater wear reflective clothing or carry a light or glow stick.

Ensure costumes fit well and never obscure visibility.

Remind your children to stay in well-lit areas, never take shortcuts, and never go into isolated areas.

Teach your kids to bring treats home before eating them.

Eat only factory-wrapped treats unless you know the giver well.

Let your children know to tell you or a trusted adult if they see anything weird or unusual.

Teach your children to say NO and GET AWAY from any person or situation making them feel scared, uncomfortable, or confused; even if it means yelling, kicking, attracting attention or any other means of resisting.

Teach your children to never enter any home without you or without your permission.

Before Halloween, do these three steps to help make trick-or-treating safe this year:

1. Visit your sheriff or police department's website and click on their sex offender link. Check an address for registered sex offenders nearby.
2. Register for email notifications so you get notified if a registered sex offender moves into your neighborhood.
3. Download the free OffenderWatch App to see where registered sex offenders are located in your area, near you or your children, and be able to track your child's phone.

You can download the app for iPhone in the Apple Store and for Android on Google Play.
